The T.W. Lillie residence is an example of the work of Modernist Architect Lloyd Ruocco. The home, constructed between 1956 and 1958, is of wood frame construction with large expanses of glass facing easterly views.